In2Ed Cookie Policy

Last updated: 10 November 2026

We are IN 2 ED EDUCATION LIMITED, company number 13364715 (“In2Ed”, “we”, “us” or “our”). This Cookie Policy explains how cookies and similar technologies are used on www.in2ed.co.uk (the “Site”) and how you can manage your choices. References to “you” and “your” mean visitors to the Site.

Please read this policy alongside the Privacy Policy on our website for information about how we collect, use and protect personal information.

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small file stored on your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. Cookies can help a website work securely, maintain a browsing session, remember preferences and support its features. Similar technologies, including browser storage, can also store or access information on your device.

You can block or delete cookies through your browser settings. Doing so may affect how some parts of the Site work.

Types of cookies

Source

- First-party cookies: cookies set on the domain of the website you are visiting.
- Third-party cookies: cookies set on a different domain by an external service. Website features provided by other companies may use cookies or similar technologies.

Duration

- Session cookies: generally remain for the duration of a browsing session.
- Persistent cookies: remain on your device until they expire or you delete them. Browser-storage entries may have no automatic expiry.

Categories

Necessary: technologies supporting security, session handling and core website operation. A consent exception depends on the actual purpose and use of a technology, not simply its category name.

Functional: technologies supporting additional website features. Boom Form is categorised as Functional in our consent-management system.

Other: additional entries recorded separately in the cookie inventory. This category label does not establish an exemption from consent.

The Site uses Wix services and Usercentrics consent management. WIX CMS, Usercentrics for Wix, Wix Bookings and Wix Pro Gallery are categorised as Essential in the consent-management system. Component categories do not establish the status of every individual cookie.

Cookies and similar technologies on the Site

The table below lists identified entries, their domains, descriptions and recorded durations. The durations shown are those recorded for the Site entries, rather than general supplier defaults. “Other” is an inventory category label. “No automatic expiry recorded” means that no automatic expiry was recorded for the entry; it does not mean the information cannot be deleted.

How do I manage my cookies?

The Site provides a Usercentrics cookie banner with Deny, Accept All and Save Settings options. Use the banner to make your choices. You can reopen your preferences using the fingerprint privacy icon at the bottom left of the Site and change your choices or withdraw consent for optional technologies.

We must obtain your consent before using cookies or similar technologies where no applicable legal exception has been established. Technologies that are strictly necessary to provide a service you request may be used without consent. Unclassified entries are not automatically exempt.

Use the cookie banner and privacy icon to manage your choices for optional cookies and similar technologies, including third-party features. You can also remove existing cookies and browser storage using your browser controls.

How to turn off cookies

You can use your browser settings to block cookies, delete existing cookies and clear other browser storage. Your browser's help pages explain the available options. Blocking necessary cookies may prevent some features from working correctly.

For further information, visit the Information Commissioner's Office guidance on cookies, AboutCookies.org or the AboutCookies.org.uk managing-cookies guide. These are independent information resources, not controls for the In2Ed Site.

Privacy and contact

For information about how we collect, use and protect your personal information, please see the Privacy Policy on our website.
